ed, i'd give joe some slack here understanding the extent of heightened risk of depression in people with long term conditions is fundamental to the need for prompt recognition in this vulnerable patient group they are not only master case method teachers, they also author many of the cases used in darden classrooms and around the world. 